VFW ships one million free phone cards to servicemembers

BY GERRY J. GILMORE
AMERICAN FORCES PRESS SERVICE

Since late September, the Veterans of Foreign Wars has shipped 1 million free phone cards to service members and to veterans.

Since the program's inception six years ago, 2 million prepaid phone cards have been sent to active and reserve component military members serving overseas and to hospitalized veterans, noted Ron Browning, assistant adjutant general for development at VFW headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

With deployments of U.S. troops on the upswing in recent weeks, Browning pointed out that 45 percent of the total cards provided by the program have been delivered or shipped in the past 100 days.

"We're doing everything we can to physically meet the demand of the people being deployed," he remarked, suggesting it's especially important these days that service members know that people care about them.

Browning said the VFW receives 400 to 500 thank-you cards a day from service members who've used their prepaid phone cards.

Both corporate contributors, such as Wal-Mart and the National Football League, and individuals fund the phone card program, he said, noting the program relies on an extensive network of volunteers. The program is heating up, Browning said, as the VFW is now receiving up to 50,000 requests a week for phone cards, compared to the 300 to 400 received in slower times. In fact, he said, an NFL Web site promoting the program has generated orders for more than 40,000 phone cards.

Historically, people such as parents, spouses, other relatives and military commanders have requested the cards for service members and veterans, he said.

Some airlines waive ticket, exchange fees

BY GERRY J. GILMORE
AMERICAN FORCES PRESS SERVICE

Some U.S. airlines are adjusting their rules so service members won't have to pay penalties if they need to alter ticket reservations because of military duty.

AirTran Airways, Delta Airlines and Hawaiian Airlines now waive ticket change fees for service members on military deployment orders, while ticketing changes on Southwest Airlines are currently free, according to Jean Marie Ward of the Office of the Undersecretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. Continental, Frontier and Northwest Airlines waive change fees and also will issue refunds on request, she added.

Ward said particulars of these carriers' programs can be viewed at DoD's Military Assistance Program Web site at dod.mil/mapsite/airtickets.html. Information from more airlines will be added as it becomes available, she said.

According to General Service Administration officials, a number of other airlines will waive ticket

Lisa Whelchel, former teen star of the 80s sitcom, the Facts of Life, moved the audience to laughter and tears Saturday. Fort Huachuca’s Protestant Women of the Chapel attended the all-day Women of Virtue concerene in Tuscon, where Whelchel was featured as a key speaker. She releated to the audience how she meet her husband, how her faith helps her maintain a healthy weight and the heartbreaking pitfall of losing all of her childhood earnings.

change penalties if service members present copies of their military orders or a letter from their commanders, Ward noted. The waiver procedures are official company policy for some carriers, she said, but not all reservation or check-in personnel may know that. She suggested travelers call their airline for waiver information before going to the airport.

Much of the U.S. airline industry has been in a financial tailspin since Sept. 11, 2001, and have instituted or boosted penalties for customers who want new tickets because of missed flights or changes in their travel plans.

Military travelers became prime penalty targets on Oct. 7, 2001, when America launched its military offensive against global terrorism. Many thousands of active and reserve component service members already have been called up and deployed, Ward noted, and myriad thousands more have been tapped for duty as part of the U.S. military buildup for potential war against Iraq.

Questions were raised in late 2002 about the travel penalties faced by service members called off leave for military operations.

At DoD’s request, GSA officials queried City Pairs Program carriers — the contract carriers for government travelers — regarding ticket exchange penalties and waivers for military personnel, Ward remarked. Meanwhile, she added, Air Mobility Command officials pursued parallel inquiries and ultimately coordinated much of the discussion between DoD and the airlines regarding waivers.

Information on the Military Assistance Program Web site notes that the Army Emergency Relief Society, Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society and the Air Force Aid Society may provide loans to cover unexpected expenses resulting when air carriers don’t waive fees or penalties.

The Web site notes that service members needing financial help of this type can call or visit the relief society office at the nearest military installation. The three organizations have reciprocal agreements with each other and the Coast Guard.

Policies for changing reservations or travel plans vary across the travel industry, Ward explained, noting that Amtrak tickets, for example, can be changed without charge in most cases. In contrast, prearranged travel packages would be more difficult to alter.

“However, the travel issues related to short-term deployments are broader than changes in personal travel plans,” Ward said. Certain military personnel, such as single and dual military parents, are required to have family care plans for deployments, she noted, adding that these plans can involve sending children to distant family members or bringing a caretaker into the home.

Ward said DoD is exploring the issue of this kind of short- fused family travel with the airlines. Pending new airline policies, she said, DoD recommends service members implementing plans that call for short-fused family travel ask their airline representative about eligibility requirements for any special fares.

Military families whose care plans rely on other forms of transportation should check their carriers’ policies, Ward said. In any case, she noted, local military service relief societies might offer loans to cover these expenses.

Shades of Green at Disney World taking reservations for December 2003 reopening

AMERICAN FORCES PRESS SERVICE

Reservation lines are open for the Dec. 15 reopening of a new, improved Armed Forces Recreation Center Shades of Green hotel on Walt Disney World Resort here.

Shades of Green has been closed for expansion and complete renovation since early 2002. Meanwhile, guests eligible to stay there have been booked into Disney’s Contemporary Resort at Shades of Green’s daily rates. The rates are based on rank from a low of $66 for E-1s through E-5s to $99 for senior officers. The range starting Dec. 15 will be $70 to $116.

“We’ve already booked our first military wedding on Dec. 29 for 250 people,” said Jim McCrindle, the hotel’s general manager since it opened in 1994.

When Shades of Green reopens, he said, it will have double the guest space at 586 rooms, a new 500-space parking garage and 7,500 square feet of flexible special-event space for reunions, weddings and other family-oriented social functions. There will be 11 suites, up from just one.

He said more rooms will conform to the standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act. “We had handicapped-accessible rooms before, but now we will have bona fide ADA-designed and equipped rooms with the wider bathroom doors and the roll-in showers,” he said. Nine of the existing rooms were completely renovated to ADA standards.

The near-two-year project includes complete makeovers of all the existing rooms to the same standards as the new ones — new carpet, paint, curtains, mattresses and bedspreads.

“All the rooms are exactly the same size and everything is brand new,” McCrindle said. In essence, he said, guests who want a new room don’t have to ask — every room will be new.

All rooms will have standard amenities such as ironing boards and televisions, but there will be some new twists — refrigerators, wireless TV keyboards and 12 hours of Internet access for about $6. Guests will be able to play TV video games, in-room movies and order attraction tickets online from the hotel’s tickets and tours office.

The hotel restaurants are being remodeled. The four include a new Northern Italian-themed trattoria. Shades of Green has its own two heated swimming pools, a kiddie pool, play area and tennis courts. It’s situated among three Walt Disney World Resort golf courses: two 18-hole championship courses and a nine-hole executive course with discounted greens fees for military players. Free shuttle bus service transports guests to and from Disney attractions.

The hotel has operated at or near 100 percent occupancy from the moment its doors opened, McCrindle said. Guests who could not be housed at Shades of Green were placed in other hotels on and off the Disney resort. Customer demand has been so high, it’s spurred the whole expansion project, he said.

Shades of Green is financially self-sustaining; no taxpayer dollars are used for operations. The hotel expansion is funded by a civilian commercial loan.

For more details or to make reservations, visit www.shadesofgreen.org or www.armymwr.com/shades/index.html, or call toll-free 1-888-593-2242.

“The best way to make a reservation is to use the Web site,” McCrindle suggested. “That way, you’re guaranteed a response within 72 hours. Give alternate dates to your first choice.” The phones tend to be overloaded, he added.

The Army Community and Family Support Center in Alexandria, Va., operates the four Armed Forces Recreation Centers as the Defense Department’s executive agent. The other three are the Hale Koa Hotel on Waikiki Beach in Honolulu, Hawaii; the Dragon Hill Lodge in the Yongsan area of Seoul, South Korea; and AFRC-Europe, which has Bavarian resorts in Chiemsee and Garmisch, Germany.

AFRCs are open to DoD identification card holders in all the active and reserve components, active members of the other uniformed services, active DoD civilians assigned outside the United States, military and DoD civilian retirees, and their families. Also eligible are several other smaller groups, such as Medal of Honor recipients and 100-percent disabled veterans.
